Marie Clay's Reading Recovery®

GREAT CHART SCHOOL

A short, intensive programme to give children a strong boost in reading and writing.

What is it?

A proven, one-to-one programme created by Marie Clay to help young children who are finding reading and writing more difficult.

Who is it for?

Children in the early years of school who need extra, short-term support to build their reading and writing skills.

How does it work?

Short, daily sessions (around 30 minutes) with a trained Reading Recovery teacher.

→

Building key reading and writing skills through real books and meaningful activities.

→

Carefully tracked progress so support is matched to your child's needs.

Why do we use it?

- To build confidence as a reader and writer.
- To develop reading strategies (for example, using sounds, letters and meaning).
- To strengthen writing skills.
- To help children catch up and keep up with their classmates.

The purpose

To help children make faster progress in reading and writing, so they can access the wider curriculum with confidence and enjoyment.

A focused, timely support that helps children become confident, independent readers and writers.
